THE PRISONER INFORMED OF HIS VICTIM'S

OF THE NEW-YORK AND NEW-

JERSEY COURTS. Division Superintendent William G. Wattson. of the West Shore Railroad, died in the Roose welt Hospital yesterday morning from the effects of the wounds which he received in his office in Weehawken on last Thursday. His death makes ex-Detective Edward Clifford a murderer. Clifford shot Mr. Wattson down in s cowardly and deliberate way. There can be no pretence that the murder was not premeditated, for Clifford, enraged because he had been justly discharged from the employ of the railroad company, fired two bullets into the body of the unarmed and defenceless man, who had made no attempt to attack him.

Clifford had received a notice of his discharge for cause. He had been drunk and had absented himself from duty without leave a number of times. He went into Mr. Wattson's ofber of times. He went into Mr. Wattson's office and declared that he would not recognize the notice of dismissal. Mr. Wattson replied to him quietly, and without anger. He was sitting at his desk when Clifford drew a revolver from his pocket and fired, wounding him in the groin. Mr. Wattson rose from his chair and the discharged detective fired again, sending a bullet into his abdomen. Both shots were fired at short range, evidently with deadly intent.
After the shooting Clifford put the revolver into his pocket and walked out of the office.
Mr. Wattson was brought to this city and taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, where skilful surgeons performed the operation of laparatomy in the hope of saving his life. On Monday.
when there was reason to believe that he would die, in spite of the operation, Coroner Dobbs, of this city, took Mr. Wattson's ante-mortem statement. Clifford had been locked up in the Hudson County Jail to await the result of the wounds which he had inflicted.

Deputy Jailer Stockmar informed the prisoner of Mr. Wattson's death yesterday, and Clifford shook his head sadly and said, "I'm very sorry;
very sorry." Clifford has been silent and meditative since his incarceration. He was prepared for the information that his own life was in popardy. He was immediately transferred from his room in the section used for the detention of witnesses to cell No. 3 in Murderer's Row.

Friends of the murderer have advanced the opinion that Clifford may escape punishment for the crime because of the lack of complete jurisdiction of the courts of New-York and New-Jersey, but the crime of murder was not consummated until the death of the victim, which occurred in New-York, and beyond the jurisdiction of the New-Jersey courts. A NewYork Coroner took the ante-mortem statement and will hold the inquest.

The court officials of Hudson County do not expect any complications. While they cannot compel New-York witnesses to attend, they believe they will come voluntarily and present the and declared that he would not recognize expect any complications. While they cannot compel New-York witnesses to attend, they believe they will come voluntarily and present the proofs of Mr. Wattson's death. They believe that Clifford will be convicted, and that the conviction will stand.

DISAGREEMENT AS TO THE BILL.

COMMISSIONERS FAVOR MR. AUSTIN'S MEASURE

Chief Conlin said yesterday that he was opposed to the bill introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Austin providing that captains of police may be se detective sergeants. "Such a law," he said, "would be a breach of discipline and demoralizing to the force. Every patrolman who wasks the sidewalks feels that by good behavior he has a chance for promotion. He looks forward to his promotion to roundsman. He has to pass an ex-amination for that place. His next hope is to be nade a sergeant. Again, he has to pass an examishow that he is qualified. The next step a captaincy. Before he reaches that position he is required to be examined again. In each grade st show himself to be fit and well qualified for he must show himself to be fit and well qualified for the place he seeks. If a man can be made a captain frim a detective sergeant he reaches the place without going through the regular routine. A detective sergeant is only a detailed patroliman. He has no experience as a roundsman or a sergeant. If this measure became a law there would be nothing to prevent a patroliman being detailed as a detective sergeant and then promoted to a captaincy the next day."

Although Chief Conlin opposes the measure to make captains from detective sergeants, the Commissioners are evidently in favor of it. Mr. Roosevelt said he believed it was a proper measure. Colonel Grant said:

"I believe it would be a good thins. It would give us an opportunity to make captains of some worthy detective sergeants without having to reduce them to the ranks and then promote them through the various grades. Of course, the power could be various grades.

THE VANDERBILTS AND THE B. AND O. Since the Baltimors and Ohio Railroad went into hands of receivers rumors have been rife about the reorganization of the road. For a long time-in fact, ever since the financial troubles of the road were first hinted at-there have been persistent rumors to the effect that the Vanderbilts would secure control of the road. Frequently as these rumors have been denied, they continue with remarkable persistency.

The latest story current concerning the road is The latest story current concerning the road is that Oscar G. Murray, who is coreceiver with John R. Cowen, was in the city a few days ago making an effort to raise money to improve the rolling stock. The report is that Mr. Murray imparted to friends his finding that the stock was in such bad shape that it was necessary to refuse business, owing to lack of transportation facilities. He wished, so it is said, to raise $10,000,000 to improve the rolling stock and make other necessary improvements. This amount, so the report goes on, was to be contributed by the Vanderbilts as the first instalment toward securing control of the line. Chauncey M. Depew was not in the city yesterday, but one who is in close touch with the Vanderbilt interests said that the story was absurd, and that the Vanderbilts wanted nothing to do with the line.

TROUBLE FOR SOUTHWESTERN ROADS. Chicago, March 10 .- Southwestern roads which have been making exceptionally low rates on grain from Missouri River points to the Guif ports, thereby diverting the traffic from the regular channel by way of Chicago to New-York, have struck a snag that may compel them either to advance the that may compel them either to advance the rates to Guif ports or to reduce all rates from interior points in Kansas. The Kansas Board of Railroad Commissioners has forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington a petition in behalf of the shippers of Kansas and of the Southwest asking the Commission to order a more equitable corn rate to Guif of Mexico ports. In its petition the Board says that Kansas City, St. Joseph and Leavenworth get lower rates from the railroad on grain shipments to Guif ports than many places in Kansas much nearer the Guif ports.

ST. PAUL EARNINGS INCREASED.

Chicago, March 10.—The earnings of the Chicago, Milwaukce and St. Paul Railroad for the first week of March were $590,565; for the same period last year, $500,283; increase, $87,282.

MR. SPENCER AND BALTIMORE AND OHIO. President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern Railway, said yesterday that aithough he was in Baltimore on Monday he did not have a conference with the receivers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He also said that he was not going to Europe to represent J. P. Morgan & Co. in matters connected with the reorganization of the Baltimore and Ohio, but for rest and recreation.

Last evening, however, Daniel Robinson, one of the directors of the H. B. It is the usual surjection of the sale in the sale of the sale of the sale of the sale was the sale of the sale was the sale of the sale was not at 2 per cent below the prevailing prices. I do not care to state the precise percentage of difference. All I care to say is that the sale was the usual one for this season of the year, and has no inusual or ren arkable features about it."

was at the bank last Monday and looked exceedingly well. For his age Mr. Lawrence was a man of remarkable physique. He looked to be about sixty years old, was the picture of robust health and walked erect. He seldom failed to be at the regular weekly meetings of the bank.

Mr. Lawrence was born in May, 1812, in Ireland, and came to this country about sixty years ago, starting in business in this city. For many years Mr. Lawrence was a butcher in the Centre Market. About thirty years ago he retired from business and devoted himself to charitable work. He gave liberally to Catholic charities, being a free contributor to nearly all the Catholic benevolent societies of this city. He also remembered in a generous way the Catholic hospitals and institutions. Mr. Law-rence had been connected with the Catholic Protec-tory in Westchester County ever since it was founded. He was president of that institution at the time of his death. He was chosen president of the institution three years ago, but before he became its

Mr. Lawrence was elected a trustee of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank on June II, 1895, and in 1859 he became a member of the Finance Committee of the bank. He remained a member of that committee until 1890, when he was elected second vice-president. At the time of his death he was also a member of the Finance Committee.

Mr. Lawrence was a member of the Catholic Club and the Irish Emigrant Society. He leaves a widow and two children, a son and daughter.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

There will be a meeting of the trustees of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank to-day, at which suitable resolutions on the death of Mr. Lawrence will be passed.

A NEW VARIETY SHOW CLUB.

A new Vaudeville Club is proposed. The old Vaudeville Club resolved itself into the Opera Club, existing for the noble object of hiring the omnibus box in the Metropolitan Opera House and displaying its name on two or three doors about the building. It is the purpose that the new Vaude-ville Club shall be what the old one was, or tried to be, for two seasons. That object, of course, is to hear and see variety performers, without contaminating surroundings of a variety theatre, and with a comforting and consoling sense of proprietorship. The movement has got as far as the sending out of circulars. The Berkeley Lyceum is thought of for the place, and variety performances from 10 till 2 o'clock each night are thought of for the plan. It is said that a good many replies have been received to the circulars, and that a list of subscribers will be ready in a few days.

SUIT BY AN EX-POLICEMAN. HE WANTS TO HAVE A RESOLUTION OF THE

In the Supreme Court before Justice MacLean yesterday the case of Joseph Devan, an ex-policeman, who was dismissed from the force with nine others for alleged fraud and deceit in a civil-service examination, came up on an application for a writ of nandamus to compel the Board of Civil Service Examiners to rescind a resolution that Devan had wrongfully obtained a certificate. The policeman was appointed on February 8, 1890, and was dismissed on February 5, 1895. The investigation of his case was begun by the Police Board on a report that certain policemen had fraudulently obtained certificates. Devan, one of the accused men, demurred to the jurisdiction of the Commissioners, and the latter referred the matter to the Civil Service Board. The resolution com plained of, it is alleged, was passed without giving Devan a chance to defend himself. It was asserted by Assistant Corporation Counsel Connolly that the Court was asked to declare valid a certificate obtained by fraud.

Decision in the case was reserved.

MR. GUMPERT ON PEACE AND WAR.

THE AMERICAN HOME AND MONROE DOCTRINE THE SUBJECT OF HIS LECTURE.

Edward Gumpert delivered an address before the Harlem Republican Club, at its clubhouse, Nos. 145 and 147 West One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., last Among those present were Commissioner of Charities Silas C. Croft, Captain William C. Reddy, E. M. Underhill, Henry C. Robinson and Robert Hunt. The subject of the address was "The American Home and the Monroe Doctrine." "Man is the work of God," said the speaker, Therefore we are not only the noblest but the supreme creatures on earth. Men like Moses, Talley-rand, Darwin and Professor Lazarus, of the Berlin Americans have achieved the highest civilization by less. It is characteristic and typical of the American people that they are the lovers and providers of typical homes." Mr. Gumpert said that the Monroe Doctrine had aroused our feelings against English arrogance and Spanish atrocities, but even had Monroe never lived the sentiment would have been the same. speaking of Great Britain's attitude on the question he said:

he said:

"Salisbury's statement that the Monroe Doctrine was no part of international law was false, for England and all other countries proclaim it in various ways. England interfered with Russia and Africa. Prussia would not tolerate the bargain of Holland and France, and Russia stopped Japan from seizing Port Arthur. England is reluctant to arbitrate with America because there are no crowned heads here. America is good enough to supply England with money and beautiful women; good enough for free trade, but otherwise we are only plebelans, parvenus." Encroaching on American soil meant death to the assailant or the assailed, and the sooner that fact is impressed on all nations concerned the better. Mr. Gumpert concluded his remarks with an appeal for "Peace with honor, or death with glory."

The United States Grand Jury for the February term came into the Circuit Court yesterday and reported over a dozen indictments. The foreman said that the jury had disposed of all the cases said that the jury had disposed of all the cases presented to it by the Government. These cases include the charges against General Garcia and his guban compatriots, who are accused of a violation of the neutrality laws.

United States District-Attorney Macfarlane positively refused to give any information regarding the indictments filed.

"Were General Garcia and the other alleged Cuban fillbusters indicted?" he was asked.

"I have nothing to say regarding the work of the Grand Jury," he replied.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton was made many time concerning the case. The latest of these has just developed, and is in effect that Mr. Drayton has practically dropped his part of the proceeding. Herbert A. Shipman, one of the counsel for Mrs. Drayton, was seen yesterday afternoon in his office in Temple Court Building. He considered the published rumors for a little time and then said: "Well, 'How can a case be taken up out of its order of Ilke to know." Then he continued: "To the best of my knowledge Mr. Drayton has not dropped his case secause it is now on the docket of court, and so far as Mrs. Drayton's counsel are informed it will be breased until it is reached."

Mr. Shipman was asked if it is true that testimony is now being taken in France in the interest of Mrs. Drayton, and he made reply simply and pointedly hard to was false.

T' a came the usual and final query from The Tribune reporter, "Is a compromise probable between Mr. and Mrs. Drayton?" and he replied: "No, absolutely no."

storm reached me in India. You have acted just as I should have expected you to act. By your toll and self-sacrifice and devotion you made the Army what it is in America, and you have not been willing to stand by and see it destroyed. You will show no want of patience with those who have fallen beneath an almost unparalleled weight of temptation and flattery. You will pray for them without ceasing. You will, by daily faithfulness, compel even your most bitter critics to see that we are seeking only the good of all men. You will allow no difficulty to check your advance. You will not fall your General. You will not fall your Lord. Let us remember the millions without God, and devote ourselves anew to their salvation, and He will grant us our hearts' desire and fulfil all our counsel. Your General, full of love for all.

The meeting was a pri-Fourteenth-st, last night. The meeting was a private one, none being admitted except those regularly attached to the division. It was expected that Commissioner Eva Booth would take advantage of the opportunity to make some reference to the difficulties which have arisen. It was known that in the course of the day Miss Booth had been in frequent cable communication with the General, and it was felt that she would possibly have some announcement to make regarding the future intentions of the General in the administration of the Army in this country. Beyond the simple reading of General Booth's manifesto, however, no direct or even implied reference was made to the matter which is at present uppermost in the minds of Salvationists.

After the manifesto had been read the gathering

After the manifesto had been read the gathering resolved itself into a simple holiness meeting. Miss Booth spoke for an hour and a half on purely spiritual matters.

eral Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, who has just arrived in London from India. General Booth said he was busily considering the policy of the army in America, but had as yet not been able to form a statement on the subject.

The General handed the reporter an advance copy of "The War Cry," which contained the announcement that immediately upon his arrival in London General Booth had addressed a manifesto to the officers and soldiers of the Salvation Army in America, declaring that, although his heart was torn and he was sorely wounded, he was, nevertheless, determined to conduct the government of the army irrespective of persons. If he had been willing to make an exception in favor of one person in order to retain the loyalty of that person he would deservedly have lost forever the confidence and respect of all honest-hearted men and the approval of his own conscience.

The article also asks the prayers of the army in America, and her comrander in the United States.

"The Dally News" will to-morrow publish an interview with General Booth, in which the commander of the Salvation Army said that the cause of the difficulty in America was perfectly simple. Change was one of the first principles of the army. It had been knewn for quite two years that a change in the command in the United States was
